

Remarks

The forgoing amendments place the claims of the application into better form for examination and allowance.

More particularly, new claim 22 incorporates the subject matter of Claim 2 of the International patent application, as published, together with a (first) temperature-responsive device for controlling the temperature of the cooking plate within predetermined limits, which limits are set forth, for example, at page 18, lines 16-24, of the International application. Claims 1 and 2 have accordingly been canceled.

Favorable consideration is earnestly solicited.

Respectfully submitted,
NEIL SWANN, ET AL.
